Introduction

Purpose

This manual contains information to help you stock spare parts. Review this information, and stock the recommended spare parts and quantities for equipment in your service area.

This manual provides spare parts information in a tabular form. The tables indicate the spare parts that are recommended for Distributor stocks.

Table of Contents

Parts List

The tables in this manual are set up as follows.

		Distributor
Part Description	Part Number	50
RS-232 PCB	M09680B016	2

Following are the definitions for each column in the table:

Part Description
The Part Description column provides a detailed name for each recommended spare part. Information such as colors, dimensions, or other details are provided, wherever applicable.

Part Number
The Part Number column indicates the current Gasboy® part number for each item.

Distributor
The Distributor column indicates how many of each spare part must be stocked for Distributors. "2" indicates the recommended quantity for Distributors with "50" of a particular unit in their service area.

Quantities shown in this manual are for reference only. The actual quantities which must be stocked by a Distributor are dictated by the business conditions for the area (such as the age of equipment, number of technicians, and distance between the Authorized Service Contractor (ASC) and Distributor).
