

Meet the pump
that's been fueled by great minds around the world.

Frontier

World-class technology.
World-class business results.

Explore the new Frontier.

And expect more.

When we created the new Frontier, we gathered the expertise of engineers around the world. After all, as the global leader, Gilbarco Veeder-Root knows what you really want is high quality and high value. So we delivered both. It's the new Frontier. And it's world-class and designed to last.

More meter accuracy means more money in your pocket.

Our new meter is so precise, nothing gets past it. It counts everything. So at the end of the day, you don't have to worry about loss of inventory and profits. Its precision-quality craftsmanship is best in class.

- > Highly tuned, wear-resistant materials
- > Redesigned rotary valve
- > Graphite deck plate
- > More surface area on piston cups

Higher security protects your profits.

Protect your investment. Stop those trying to steal your fuel and your money. Frontier puts security on your side because of the way it's made on the inside.

- > Tamper-resistant meter-encoder interface
- > Secure and proprietary serial interface prevents theft
- > Redundant encoder sensors ensure integrity and reliability

Greater reliability gives you long-term satisfaction.

When we designed the new Frontier, we put it to the test. And tested the electronics in all kinds of extreme environments and situations. So we not only know it will perform extremely well over time, we have certified proof.

- > Bright LED backlit displays save power, reduce heat, and last longer
- > Certified to withstand 8 kV of static electricity
- > Critical data stored in nonvolatile memory

Easier service pays off down the road.

At Gilbarco Veeder-Root, we believe in the quality of our product and stand behind it. In fact, we're the global leader in service and reliability. Better service people means better and faster service, which means you save money.

- > Roomy and accessible hydraulic cabinet
- > Global standard components
- > Vane pump designed for easy service

Get the best of both worlds in one world-class product.

Frontier is designed and manufactured to be world-class, inside and out. Giving you protection from fuel loss, a more secure pulser design, tested electronics certified to the extreme, and easier service. In short, you get more for your money. And a product that keeps your investment safe. Put a new Frontier in your forecourt and conquer new territory and profits.
